JOSEPH WEISBERG, P.T., Ph.D.
DEAN

Dear Graduates of the Class of 1996:

Congratulations, graduates, upon attaining the goals you set for yourselves! Another milestone on your road to accomplishment has been reached and I salute your tenacity and your commitment. It has not been an easy road but, once achieved, should provide you with a deep sense of pride and satisfaction.

In spite of the many difficulties, you maintained your enthusiasm and your sense of humor. Recall, if you will, those first harried days at Touro College and the many hours spent in preparation for your exams. However, be aware that each one of those hours made you a little more knowledgeable and much more confident.

We the faculty and administration feel that we have provided you with a strong and sound educational background that should enable you to grow and assume leadership positions within your field. You have taken the first step to meet the challenges which loom in the horizon. As you embark on your careers, look to the future but rely on your past. You have established special bonds which will be yours for a lifetime and which will help you both personally and professionally.

I congratulate you on your achievement and wish you success for your future as I look forward to your active participation in the Alumni Association.

Sincerely,

Joseph Weisberg, Ph.D.
Dean

Lasting Impressions of Touro College

(from the minds of the OT Class of 1996)

- Jason busting his nads three times on the table in Psych lab
- When Stephanie yelled in Kinesiology lab that we were all "10 year olds".
- Jason's parents showed up at Carrington's with his melted ice cream birthday cake.
- Vicki cutting off the penis of our cadaver to see what the inside was like.
- Ivan throwing the pen into the wall in Psych lab.
- Robin depolarizing Tony by grabbing her boobs in front of psych class.
- Dr. Barry tells the physiology class that he thought about Alex over the weekend when he saw a T-shirt that read "Is Anal Retentive Hyphenated?"
- The "Does everyone have a partner?" scenario in Administration & Healthcare. Jason causes the whole class to stand in pairs so that Donna Treacy can count off.
- Tony acts as bouncer, waiter, and host while Carlos, dressed in a toga, pukes on himself in a corner at his own party.
- Mary Teng trying to teach kinesiology of the hand
- Hollander accuses Alice of masturbating while she was twirling her hair. She then takes out a banana, strokes it, and shoves it in her mouth.
- Michelle frantically searches through the tissue waste container in anatomy lab after accidentally disposing of her cadaver's spinal cord and being told by Dr. Mercurio "You need that!"
- Mike Altimari's story of his daughter sticking french fries up her nose.
- Maureen's continually telling Jason to "shut up" & "go away" and he still doesn't get the hint.
- Sue Buckley flees to the back of the room in a futile attempt to escape Alex's barrage of questions.
- Eliza Maglari pulls down Laura's pants in kinesiology, exposing 75% of her buttocks.
- Robin is asked by a child at her fieldwork site if Ivan was Gomez from the Addams Family.
- A Level 1 fieldwork supervisor describes her autistic patient to Vicki and Jason as exhibiting self-stimulating behavior, to which Jason replies "I know some normal people who do that a lot and are a lot older than he is."
- Carlos asks Stu what the instructional objectives are for tonight's lesson.
- Lorraine gets us out of 3 classes early during the first week of school.
- London Pub—Cindy calls Matt's wife and tells her he left with a bunch of girls.
- Dr. Altchek's family is a walking medical encyclopedia.
- Cheryl's fifteen minute speech, yelling at Tony for not being prepared for Level 2 psych fieldwork, all in one breath.
- Christine—"The best president Touro has ever seen!"
- Mary's sign language interpretation in Dr. Nelson's class.
- Jason not knowing the dependent variable of his thesis.
- Audra bawling because she got a C on a growth & development paper.
- Ivan becomes Pi Theta Epsilon president due to nepotism.
- That spine-chilling feeling when Jason sneaks up behind you and starts to rub your shoulders.
- Stu's brief but obvious nap during the use of modern technology 101.
- Rich Curran's imitation of the tissue queen.
- The nightly topics in cog rehab.—i.e., pick a Halloween costume for your favorite professor, the 8 Days of Hanukah, a la Touro.

We'll miss all the students, but we'll especially miss:

- * Liz and Tracie coming in late
- * the new looks Jeff can come up with
- * George's use of interchangeability
- * Stephen's outrageous clothes
- * Joe and Isa's massages in class
- * all the weddings: Mark S., Ilyse, Allison, Faige, Karen G., and Stephen
- * all the engagements: Veronica, Krissy, Becky, Christina, Mark M. & Christine, Amanda, Doug, and Laura
- * the parties at Triple A's
- * the comments from Tony
- * Greg's perfect histamine reaction
- * the announcements from Sonja and Katherine
- * Barbara's bake sales
- * Deena's coyness
- * Corrine's notes on the board
- * Stephanie G., Leonor, and Dawn Payne's coffee runs
- * Melissa's caricatures
- * Marianna's southern drawl
- * Stephanie D.W.'s OT experience
- * Josh's carrots
- * Scott's hair
- * Chris as Santa Claus
- * Margaret, Chris M., and Jenn Fealy's Peppermint Patties
- * Elissa's volunteerism
- * Brian's smile
- * Jenn V. and Trish as the chuckle patch
- * the Jersey girls—Dawn Provenzale and Kristen
- * Alan and Jenn Fryd—Case Study King and Queen
- * Mark S.'s frequent flyer miles
- * Karen K. and her swiss ball

Good Luck Class of 1996!
